Noble Systems is Named to Collection Advisor Technology's Top 50 Collection Technology Products for 2008

Noble Systems is Recognized for Innovations in Technology for the Collections Industry

Atlanta, GA – December 9, 2008: Noble Systems Corporation, a global leader in innovative contact center technology solutions, has been named as one of Collection Advisor magazine's Top 50 Collection Technology Products. The award was presented at the Collection Advisor Tech 2008 conference on November 11 in Orlando.

Noble Systems was nominated for its ability to help clients increase collector productivity and collection results. Noble Systems offers a single, unified platform with the flexibility to tailor solutions to meet its clients' individual business needs, integrate with existing applications, and support growing collections operations.

The Collection Advisor Technology awards recognize those individuals and companies within the industry who have made an impact on collection technology and its associated community. Presented by Collection Advisor magazine, the winners of the Collection Advisor awards are chosen based on nominations and on consideration by the award committee.

James K. Noble, Jr., President & CEO of Noble Systems, says, "We are honored to be nominated to the Top 50 Collection Technology Products by our users. Noble Systems is committed to working with its clients to help them succeed and grow their businesses. We design our collection technology solutions to streamline collector activities, creating a collector desktop that automates manual tasks and helps them work more efficiently. This nomination and award shows that we are meeting our goals to deliver an innovative collection solution to improve productivity and increase debt recovery."
